Title pretty much says it all. I met my wife 2 years ago. We got married a year later and all seemed great. So I thought. Without going into all the details of my marriage. However I will give you this information

I recently learned from her that

- *She Never Gave me Her Whole heart
- *She never stopped thinking about her ex bf
- *She never loved me the way I loved her

She asked me for divorce about 2 weeks ago since then I have Moved out of state. Gave her money for rent. Took Responsibility for All Credit Card Debt. And Left her EVERYTHING. The car, The 5,000 dollar home theater. All furniture. etc You get the point

Now Im sitting here. In the Rubble. Not knowing how to act, feel, or what to do. Im in process of going to BASIC AND AIT in army, because it is a career ive always wanted to do. Now i have oppurtunity.

My question after all that info is...What do I do now? I love her too death. I know I always will. But i dont know how to act, feel, etc. Ive drank myself stupid a few nights since but not everyday. I do lots of excercise for prep for Army.

Yet I find myself sitting here upset and lost.

Where now? what now? Anybody who has been through this or has advice let me know. I need it.

You can Answer here or IM me on yahoo. Im always online.

Thank you for reading this. I appreciate it.

just tid bit of info. She has been hanging out with her ex bf since i left. I know im in the thick of it yet the feelings are there. I just dont know what to do

I dont care about the stuff. it will only bring me more memories
